

Proving Your Entitlement to Drive

In June 2015, the paper counterpart of the driving licence was abolished and driving licences now consist of just the photo card.

Endorsements, penalty points and driving bans will no longer be recorded on driving licences, but will instead only be accessible online.

For insurance purposes, before your first driving lesson your instructor is required to check your full licence details to see the vehicles you're allowed to drive, and to check for penalty points and disqualifications.

The consequences for not checking the above are very serious and this procedure is in place to protect you, your instructor and the general public.

You must follow these simple steps before your 1st lesson.

You will need to generate a check code which will allow your instructor to check your licence details.

In order to do this, you will need to have on hand:

- Your driving licence
- Your national insurance number
- Your home postcode

Go to this website:

<https://www.gov.uk/view-driving-licence>

Then follow the instructions detailed below:

View or share your driving licence information

You can use this service to:

- view your driving record, for example vehicles you can drive
- check your penalty points or disqualifications
- create a licence 'check code' to share your driving record with someone, for example a car hire company

The check code will be valid for 21 days.

You'll need:

- your driving licence number
- your National Insurance number
- the postcode on your driving licence

This service is also available in Welsh \(Cymraeg\).

Click Start Now

If you are on a mobile phone, select Get your check code link:

If you are on a computer, select the “Get your check code” Tab

Click the Get a code button. This creates a code. The code is case sensitive, can only be used once, and is only valid for 21 days.

Get a licence check code

You can get a check code to share your driving licence information with someone else, like your employer or a car hire company. You may need to do this if you want to hire a car.

You must also give them the last 8 characters of your driving licence number.

Your code will be valid for 21 days.

Get a code

Send the eight character generated code to your instructor together with the last eight digits of your driving licence number. (Or the whole driving licence number, since they will need the full number for their records.) A photograph or screenshot of the code is often best as it is case-sensitive.

In advance of your first driving lesson your Instructor will view your licence details on line. Be aware that your Instructor may save a screenshot as evidence of the licence entitlement check.

Please note you should also produce your photo card licence for ID inspection on your first lesson. It is your responsibility to provide your Instructor with proof that you have a valid licence to drive, before the commencement of your first lesson. If you fail to provide this proof, your Instructor is entitled to refuse to conduct the lesson but still charge you.
